July at a glance

On 1 July 2022, SACSSP welcomed 8 talented and motivated individuals on an internship programme for a period of 12 months designed to advance their careers and give them an opportunity to contribute to SACSSP's mission. These interns have various qualifications in social work, finance, public relations and law.

Staff also sadly bade farewell to one colleague who succumbed to illness. A memorial service was held on Friday 15 July 2022.

Nelson Mandela International Day (or Mandela Day) is observed and celebrated annually on 18 July, in honour of Nelson Mandela. The day was officially declared by the United Nations in November 2009, with the first UN Mandela Day held on 18 July 2010. Every year on Nelson Mandela's birthday, July 18, global citizens are called upon to devote 67 minutes to community service and working for the good of others. To mark the celebration of this day, SACSSP staff donated crayons and colour paper to two nursery schools near SACSSP office.
